Privacy Policy

Keeping Your Personal Information Confidential

The Paul and Elizabeth Curran Foundation is committed to upholding the National Privacy Principles contained in the Privacy Act 1988, which protects the privacy, confidentiality and security of any personal information you provide to us.

Collecting Your Personal Information

We collect your personal information from you as part of our fundraising activities. Personal information including your name, address, telephone number, e-mail address, payment (including credit card details) may be collected through this website or by mail.

Using Your Personal Information

Your personal information will only be used by the Paul and Elizabeth Curran Foundation which helps support the organisation in connection with donations you make and we may send you a newsletter or other information on the work of the Curran Foundation.

If at any time you do not want to receive this information please contact the Curran Foundation on +612 8382 2134.

Sharing Your Personal Information

We will not sell your personal information to any other organisation nor disclose it to any person, unless required by law. While we seek to recognise the support of our major donors in our publications, if requested we will not display the donor's details.

Security

We take all reasonable steps to protect your personal information from misuse, loss and from unauthorised access, modification or disclosure.

Accessing Your Personal Information

You can access your personal information, subject to any exceptions under the relevant privacy laws. An application in writing is required and a small administration and copying fee may be charged.

Accuracy of Your Personal Information

You can request correction of any errors in your personal information by contacting the Curran Foundation on +612 8382 2134.
